

TAMATI

Tamati is a DJ, producer, and founder of Brera Groove, a label and party concept rooted in disco and house music with strong Italo influences. Based in Milan, he has been an essential figure in the city's vibrant music scene, shaping its sound and energy for over a decade, both as a solo artist and as part of the duo Waves Within.

For 10 years, Tamati was the resident DJ at the renowned Le Cannibale party, one of the most influential collectives in Italy. His music blends house, disco, and funk influences, fusing retro sounds with contemporary electronic elements and his productions, known for their infectious grooves and soulful melodies, have been released on esteemed labels such as Saint Wax, Apparel Music, The Disco Express, Polyamore, The House of Disco, Discoweey, Serenades, and Italoexotica.

Thanks to his eclectic music taste and exceptional DJ skills, Tamati has performed extensively across Europe and Asia, playing in countries such as France, Switzerland, Spain, Croatia, Turkey, and China. He has shared the stage with artists like Parra for Cuva, Tama Sumo, Romare, Fritz Kalkbrenner, and Tiga, captivating audiences with his dynamic sets that blend retro and contemporary sounds.

Beyond the club scene, Tamati has collaborated with major brands including Fred Perry, Levi's, Campari, and Red Bull, curating soundtracks and performing at exclusive events. His presence has also been felt at prestigious cultural festivals like Milan Design Week, Pitti Uomo in Florence, and the Venice International Film Festival, where he has crafted immersive musical experiences.

Driven by an endless passion for music, Tamati continues to push creative boundaries, explore new sonic landscapes, and make a lasting impact on the electronic music scene, both in Italy and beyond.
